AMUSEMENTS

DOUBLE BILL AT THE BUTLER TODAY

Pearl White, the famous and ever popular film star, will appear at the Butler today in "Know Your Men," an emotional drama of a high type and replete with big situations.

It is the story of a girl's awakening to the realities of life and its hardships just when she was happiest. When the blow falls it carries with it her father, her fortune and even the man she loves—who turns out to be a cad. Her subsequent life is an effort to make up for the light moments she frittered away, but again when she really has a chance to be happy with a husband who really loves her, she is driven to misfortune and desperation. It is an emotional drama that has met with unequalled success wherever it has been shown.

The other attraction on today's bill is Harold Lloyd in one of his million-dollar comedy specials, entitled "Get Out and Get Under," a roaring, splendid, roasting farce of delicious laughter. This is one of those two-reelers that cost as much money as the average five-reel feature, so you see you are getting two real features on today's bill.

Tomorrow, Alice Brady in "Out of the Clouds," a thrilling story of a chorus girl.

Coming, Vera Glavin, of "Honey-Moon" fame. Watch for announcements.

FRUIT SHIPMENT BY BOAT IS SUCCESSFUL

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 4. Successful shipments of citrus fruit from southern California to the Atlantic seaboard by boat, formed the first commercial test of the Panama canal as a connecting link between the east and west coasts, according to a statement by Lester W. Collins, refrigeration technologist at the United States department of agriculture, who arrived here recently. Collins accompanied the first shipments from Los Angeles harbor to New York city for the purpose of making tests, then returned for further investigation.

SCIENTISTS SAY ANIMALS DO NOT LIKE JAZZ

NEW YORK, May 4. Humans may like jazz, but animals don't. This was the conclusion reached by a group of scientists who recently assembled in the Central Park zoo to see what a saxophone and jazz would do to the emotions of monkeys, lions, leopards, elephants and other jungle beasts.

A quintet of musicians guaranteed to ring anything from Wagner down to ragtime in front of the monkeys, was used for the first laboratory test to determine whether the time "music" with phrases to soothe the savage beast was after all only poetic license.

According to a corps of unscientific reporters who journeyed to the zoo with scientists from Columbia university, American Museum of Natural History and New York Zoological park, the monkeys registered emotion all right, but of a rather savagely kind.

When the latest jazz was banged in the ears of lions and their mates, it upset in their feet with fur bristling.

As for Mrs. Murphy's hippopotamus, it merely cracked the experiment by diving into her tank and shutting out the racket. The elephants seemed to tremble with rage.

Only one beast was found that apparently was able to endure, if not enjoy, jazz. That was Bagheeta, the leopardess. But when a hymn was played she started a six-day race around her cage, spitting sparks. The scientists, however, put a question mark after Bagheeta's test, for attention was called to the fact that at the moment, a keeper whom she loved to relish only as a potential rival had just passed her cage.

GOOD FISHING NEAR BRIDGEPORT

Good fishing in the 340 miles of rivers and creeks surrounding Bridgeport, California, is reported. The waters are clear and good catches are reported by anglers. Dr. Southworth and a party of friends expect to leave for Bridgeport in a day or two. Look out for fish stories on their return.

This is the season when American youth abandons presidential aspirations for the ball players' career.

The benefit dance Wednesday night should be a record-breaker. Special orchestra has been secured for the occasion. A2-31.
